Gurugram, November 15, 2025—Enser Communications Limited today announced enhanced organisational readiness for the newly notified Digital Personal Data Protection (DPDP) Rules 2025, leveraging the capabilities of its subsidiary Growintelli Technologies.

Growintelli Technologies was acquired by Enser as part of its long-term strategy to build a strong, secure and future-ready technology ecosystem. With the implementation of DPDP Rules underway, the subsidiary is now playing a pivotal role in supporting Enser's internal compliance as well as fortifying the security posture of its enterprise clients.

Growintelli Technologies specialises in IT consulting, secure infrastructure design, and advanced cybersecurity solutions. These capabilities directly enable Enser to meet the DPDP requirements around:

- Encryption, access control & identity governance
- Secure-by-design network architecture
- Real-time monitoring, logging & incident detection
- Timely breach reporting & response mechanisms
- Data retention, erasure & backup continuity
- Privacy-readiness assessments & policy implementation

Through Growintelli's technical depth, Enser Communications Limited has strengthened its internal data handling processes, enhanced endpoint and network-level security, and established compliant frameworks for consent management, purpose limitation, and personal data lifecycle governance.

Leadership Statement: Commenting on this development, Enser Communications Limited stated:

"The DPDP Rules 2025 demand strong governance and advanced cybersecurity controls. With Growintelli Technologies already part of the Enser group, we are well-positioned to adopt these standards effectively and help our clients transition smoothly.
